Join us as retired anthropologist, Becky Orozco, will provide a stimulating talk about the history and future status of Camp Naco, a tent camp of 9th and 10th Buffalo Soldier Cavalry from Ft. Huachuca established in 1911. Their mission was to keep Mexican Revolution hostilities from spilling across the border and in 1919 the US War Dept. made this a permanent installation. It was part of a 1,200-mile chain of permanent military camps along the Texas to AZ border.

Camp Naco was one of only two installations constructed of adobe and the only one still standing.

The camp was decommissioned in 1924 but repurposed for a Civilian Conservation Corps Camp in the 1930's. It returned to private ownership in 1950 and is now owned by the City of Bisbee.
